

Gradient descent is an optimization algorithm used to minimize loss.
Learning rate controls the step size.